Dear all

As we break up for half term I am delighted to announce the launch of our new website. By now you may have already logged on and noticed that the visual appearance has had a face-lift. However, a great deal of work has been done by Mr Simpson, Deputy Head, supported by staff from all areas of the school to make the design more intuitive and the information you need, easier to find. We will continue to develop the website, bringing more information and up-to-date news reports about the life of the school. Following our parent information evenings this term, you will see that academic departments have made outlines of their courses easier to access and I personally really like the House Ties that show the progress of each House. If you scroll down on the home page you will see the scores that were updated today following the House Cross Country with Vikings currently in the lead. We are in the midst of House Music so who knows what the scores will be after half term! The competition is being contested fiercely but mellifluously; the quality and numbers of entries from students and staff has been outstanding with a new category introduced this year involving singing arrangements of Chapel hymns. We also have links to our Borlase Twitter accounts which should help you keep up to date with live news as it happens.

The two week break is once again packed with activities and staff are taking politics students to Washington, creative writing students to Venice, rowers to Massachusetts, hockey players to Amsterdam and there are also Senior Play and Rowing camps taking place across the break. This is also a great opportunity for students to consolidate their learning, revise for exam questions and prepare for the busy half term ahead. It is also a great opportunity for everyone to practise their burpees. Do take a look at this video to see the technique that will be required on November 14th. We know it is a tough call to recruit everyone to come in that morning to help out but we continue to reach out to everyone who can to go on Box Office and buy a ticket. Of course, you can start to build up your fitness for the Borlase 10K or 5K Trail in March!

We had fantastic support from so many parents at Saturday night's Quiz night led by the PA which was a great success, even though as a staff table we came in a humble 8th place. If all the quizzers change into their running shoes we would almost break the record!

Before I sign off, I would like to say what an enjoyable start this has been to the academic year; the positive atmosphere of enthusiasm about academic study and wider activities is palpable. This was no more true than on Wednesday evening's Extended Project Night. Year 13 students gave presentations on so many important issues - they questioned the role of AI in the future, the rise of populist political parties, the rights of the state to intervene with family decisions, the ethics of some veterinary practises and shared wonderful creative writing and musical arrangement and much much more. It was truly uplifting to see and hear young people with so much expert insight into their specialist areas of interest, and to go home from work inspired by suggestions of wider reading and research for the break. The only frustration was not being able to clone ourselves to hear all the talks. Well done everyone.

I wish you all a happy and restful break and look forward to the next half term.

Best wishes,
Kay Mountfield, Headteacher

House Music Competition

Last week, over three full days, Mr Miall and Mrs Lewington-Chislett had the pleasure of judging the first part of the House Music Event, the House Music Heats. They were treated to a wide selection of music and performances which made the three days enjoyable, but also their decision of who will be representing their house in the Finals incredibly challenging! Spanish Exchange: "Our turn to host!" - Saturday 5th October 2019 - Friday 11th October 2019

This past week, our Spanish companions paid us a visit from the historic settlement of Avila, Spain. At around four thirty pm, after arriving (for several of them for the first time) in the United Kingdom, we all went to our homes to unpack and just to show our new friends where we lived and a little bit of the immediate surrounding areas.

On the first full day of the exchange, each multinational pair went and did whatever the host's family would normally do on that day. Some people: went on walks in the local woodland, went to parks; went into Marlow (or High Wycombe) or went to rowing practice. Later on in the day (for what we had been told was a first in the long standing exchange program run between the two schools), we held '¡Una fiesta muy guay!' (or for those who do not 'hablais español', a very cool party!). This event gave us the first opportunity to socialise as a collective, to learn the names of everyone else and in general just get to know each other.

As the school week came by, our Spanish 'amigos' went on several great days out to: Windsor, Oxford and London, visiting some of the most notable places their including Oxford university and Windsor Castle.

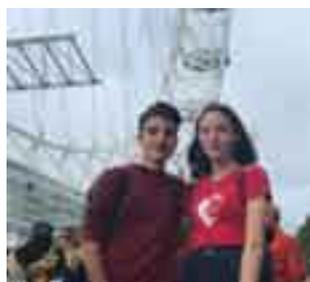

The most exciting day for the English (and probably Spanish) students was Wednesday the 9th, the day we were scheduled to go into the capital. Despite some issues with traffic getting into the city and some unusual (albeit successful) parking methods from our coach driver, we started the trip with a visit to The Tower of London. This was really quite interesting (well ... for most of us it was anyway) and we saw many 'cosas de interes' (I'm sure you can figure this one out!) including animal models and medieval looking artwork. After this, we went up the London Eye which gave us 'vistas del río y la ciudad' (any guesses ... anyone?) which were quite superb.

Thursday after school came by and again we met up together, this time for pizza and to have a farewell party. This -like the first get together- was brilliant and we had a fair amount of fun, knowing full well that we did not have much time left together until February.

Friday came round quickly ... much too quickly and it became the time for our new friends to head back home. We took them back into school, where they were shown round and had a bit of fun whilst we went back to our lessons. At break time, we met up and had some refreshments whilst we said goodbye and later at lunch, we just socialised with them and ensured that they got something to eat. Not long after, school ended and we waved our friends off from Springfield Layby, after a considerable amount of handshakes, hugs and tears of course.

We are now eagerly waiting for the 1st of February 2020, when we will have packed our suitcases, brushed up on some holiday Spanish (¿Dónde hay unos baños por favor?) and be looking forward to a week of immersive culture and (hopefully) some good weather. ¡Hasta luego nuestros amigos!

Joseph Martin and the rest of the Spanish Exchange.

Year 9 Trip to 3M

On Friday 11th 60 pupils from year 9 were lucky enough to spend the morning at 3m in Bracknell. The pupils were split in to 3 groups of 20 and rotated between three activities. In one session they had the opportunity to take part in careers speed networking, meeting university students on placement, engineers, IT consultants, product developers, designers and sales people to name just a few. During the second session pupils were set challenges that required them to solve problems. During this session they were given a design brief and were time pressured to create a product using recycled materials. They then had to test the product and share their findings before being given further time to improve it.

The team at 3m were on hand to point out how this related to product development at the company. In the final session students were able to view many of the interesting products that 3m have developed and see how they work and how they are used in every day life. Did you know you are never more than 10 feet away from a 3m product, we can assure you it's not all post it notes! Thanks to 3m for a really interesting morning and well done to the year 9 pupils for showing genuine interest and engagement during the trip.

Borlase students in charity concert

On Saturday 5 October a range of choirs from Sir William Borlase's Grammar school performed in All Saints' Church, Marlow as part of the Marlow Rotary Club's annual charity concert. They were performing alongside the renowned brass ensemble Ascot Brass in a concert that thrilled the capacity audience in the church.

Borlase choirs included the large senior choir Cantorum as well as smaller groups such as the Barbershop Boys and the Gospel Choir. The repertoire on display was exceptionally polished for a concert so early in the school year and enormous credit is due to Mr Seth Miall, Director of Music, and his team.

BBC chooses past Borlase student's poem

Former Borlase pupil, Georgia Mulraine, age 22, was recently selected by the BBC for her film-making entry in the talent development scheme called New Creatives.

New Creatives gives artists age 16-30 the chance to develop their technical and creative skills and the opportunity to have their New Creatives commissions broadcast on BBC platforms.

Georgia's entry, Elephant in the Room, offers a personal reflection on how her mixed-race heritage has shaped her outlook on life and celebrates her family's diverse heritage. Using home video and photos from the artist's family as well as documentary portraiture and a spoken word performance, the film explores the complex relationships between how our heritage – our ancestors, our culture – influence our present and shape our identity.

Georgia's entry can be viewed on the BBC website, New Creatives.

New Creatives is co-funded by Arts Council England and BBC Arts.

HOCKEY NEWS

Week 4

Week four was packed with fixtures and the GU14s and BU12s started us off on Monday with matches against Godolphin & Latymer and GMS respectively. The GU14s lost 3-2 in their final preparation game before the County Heats later on in the week and the BU12 A&B teams had productive fixtures against the GU13s from GMS.

The Tuesday was a successful day for our U16 teams, the GU16 A team beat GMS 3-0 and the BU16 A team beat Charterhouse 8-0 to begin their seasons on a positive note. The U18s then travelled down to Millfield on the Wednesday to continue our good relationship with the Somerset school, both teams playing out competitive games.

The GU14s also played on the Wednesday in their County Heats and, after winning two and drawing one of their group games, they travelled to GMS to play Piper's Corner in the semi-finals. A tight 2-1 win put the girls into the final and secured qualification for the County Finals.

The GU13 A&B teams capped off a busy day with 2-1 and 3-2 wins over Piper's Corner respectively.

Thursday saw the GU18s play in their first indoor fixture of the season in an entertaining game at MCS Oxford and the BU14 A team were too strong for West London Free School at Marlow Sports Club.

The week then finished with a successful visit to GMS for the GU16 indoor squad, securing a draw and a win in their triangular with GMS and Beaconsfield High.

Week 5

Week five began with our GU12 A+B teams recording good victories on the Monday against LVS, Ascot, before the BU16s travelled to Oxford to face Magdalen College School in their first indoor fixture of the season. A 6-2 victory is a reflection of the speed in which this group are developing

On the Tuesday, the GU16 A team then travelled to Stowe School for their 'friendly' County Tournament and, after three wins and two draws from their five games, came away in first place. The group also made big strides in their team dynamics, which was pleasing to see ahead of their National Cup R1 game today.

The BU16 B team also travelled away on the Tuesday and competed well against a strong Kingston Grammar School side.

Wednesday was our busiest day of the season so far with twelve fixtures in total. At the top end of the school, the GU18 team lost to another strong Kingston Grammar School side and the BU18 narrowly lost 0-1 to Whitgift. The BU16s played another indoor fixture against Charterhouse, winning 5-4 in the dying moments to end a good week for them.

The junior sides had plenty of fixtures as well on Wednesday with the BU12s drawing two and losing one of their fixtures against Merchant Taylors' School, the BU13s won one and lost two against the same opposition and the GU13s were competitive in defeat against Beaconsfield High School.

On Thursday, the GU14 squad played in their County Finals at Stowe School and qualified for the Regional Heats as county runners-up after winning two and losing one of their games. This is a great achievement in their first season of 11-a-side hockey.

To end the week, a GU16 and GU18 combined indoor team drew one and lost one against Beaconsfield High and Great Marlow respectively in a well contested triangular on Friday. The GU12s also had fixtures on Friday against Kingston Grammar School, losing one and drawing two.

In other news.....

- Huge congratulations to old Borlasians Jack Turner and Freya Bull, plus Borlase Hockey coaches Lee Morton and Pete Scott, for their selections to this year's GB Elite Development Programme.

All four players/coaches are fantastic role models for our younger students and thoroughly deserve their selections after years of hard work.

- For the first time since 2013, Borlase Hockey are travelling to Amsterdam for a four day/four night trip to play three fixtures against local teams. The facilities are incredible and we are very much looking forward to experiencing the Dutch culture and style of hockey with our current Y8 and Y9 students.

Fixtures are planned against HC Athena, HC Amersfoort and HC Houten, whilst we are also aiming to watch one of the top teams in Europe, AH&BC, play on Thursday evening.

To keep up-to-date with the trip, check Borlase Hockey's Twitter feed from Monday 21st October onwards.
